

White House Decorated
Egg Contest

The tradition began in 1994 where each state sends a decorated egg to the White House for display. Local artists create decorated eggs which represent each state and the District of Columbia. The Delaware Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the American Egg Board is sponsoring a contest for a First Rate Egg from the First State for the 2008 White House Egg Display.

The winning egg will be on display at the White House!

The artist will receive $100 and an invitation from the American Egg Board to see the state eggs displayed
in Washington, D.C.

Contest Criteria

- Only Delaware artists or crafters who have not won in previous years are eligible for the contest.
- Each egg should be decorated to represent some special feature (or features) of the state.
- A local artist or crafter, amateur or professional, should decorate the egg.
- An artist may submit only one decorated egg.
- Only Large chicken eggs are to be used (contents removed).
- Eggs should be freestanding, without a base or stand.
- Small end of the egg should be facing up.
- Please make sure that egg has no decoration on the bottom, reinforced for easy removal from the display, and will balance easily. Anything top heavy or built out on one side will be a problem.
- The overall size, including decorations, must not be such as to infringe on a neighboring egg at the White House display where they are positioned approximately 1 inch apart.
- The winning artist will create an exact duplicate of the winning egg and present it to the Governor of Delaware after the White House display has been set up in Washington, D. C.

Deadlines:
